Becoming a gamesmaster has to be the single most frustrating thing that I have ever done with my life. Why did it have to happen to me, I ask myself. And the only answer I can give is that I just am the gullible type. Well here goes the hassles of the games.

AR74-1(74U)

I seem to have lost Lagerson's builds, but I've tried to remember them and the results are below. I am sending an airmail letter to him to send them in and if they are changed (this will be before he sees the other peoples moves) I'll notify you. This is winter 1901.

Turkey (Iakofka) EfSmy (ABul is Italy (Venable) BFNap disbanded.)

England (Carleton) BFLon

France (Weiger) BFMar, FBre

Austria (Kelly) BABud, AVie, ATri

Germany (Lagerson) ~~ABer~~, ~~AMun~~, ~~MS~~, ~~FR~~
FBer

Russia (Nozik) BAWar, FSTP(nc)

I even attempted to call David Lagerson, but the operator says that no such person was listed in the telephone book. Spring '02 moves are due May 31, 1974.

PRESS FOR AR74-1(74U)

Vienna to Turkey/ You didn't think I was dumb enough to ally with someone who can't even keep track of the location of his own units, did you?

CONSTANTINOPLE/ If you have ever wondered why Austria is known as the dual monarchy it is because the leaders are two-faced. Archduke Ronald McDonald can sign a treaty with one hand and sign an order to stab you with the other. Such trustworthyness will cause Ronald's tongue, as analogous to Pinocchio's nose, to grow both long and forked. Pope Vulnerable and Czar Zikon should consider that before allying with him.

PARIS//((How do you like that, Walker))(((I like it, all of you others should use slashes too.))) That with German being at France's feet and all that, one would think that the country would soon be under complete French control. However, such is not the case. Premier Geiger upon discovery that he was really Kaiser vonLagerson's long-lost brother, and therefore intervened totally and completely on the side of the Beergarden Empire. Stay tuned to this station for further details (what station?).

NOTICE/ On May 17, 1974 Steve Nozik's address will be changed to the following/ 810 Melissa Drive, Oxford, Ohio 45056. JB

AR74-2(7-48)

This game is going to be delayed. Gary Fleming sent in his moves in plenty of time and before the Canadian postal strike even started. He had no way to know that he hadn't gotten them in. So after much consideration I've decided to use them and extend the deadline as the issue number six that we sent to him (after the postal strike) was returned to us. His moves are as follow/ ITALY AVen-Tyo, ARom-Ven, FNap-Tyr. Fall 1901 moves and builds are due May 31, 1974. Oops, I almost forget another correction Germany's move was FKie-Den and not Fkie to Ber which would've been pretty stupid.

PRESS FOR THE ABOVE

ON THE ROAD TO GONBOROUGH/ Melvin Schwartz, Holy Roman Emperor, was was heading for Egonborough, capital of England and home city of Ego Birsan, the only Diplomacy player to ever win 10 games, what was Diplomacy? Hopefully Ego could tell him. It was going to be a long trip from Vienna to Egonborough in the age of war. Still there was one thing driving him on, that question "What is Diplomacy?" It took him four years to reach Egonborough but finally he made it. He walked to the palace residence of the great and all-mighty Ego Birsan. Melvin Schwartz knocked and the door opened. At the door stood Ego Birsan. He was about 5ft 7, had short greasy black hair and held a Thompson submachinegun in his hand. Strapped to his shoulder was an automatic pistol, a mauser. Slung on his other shoulder was an anti-tank bazooka. Hooked on his belt were ten grenades. Ego Birsan was well armed.

"What game are you from? What Boardman number? Are you going to STAB me?" he asked.

"No, no and no. I'm Melvin Schwartz, the Holy Rom..."

"Are you from 73-6? Please don't STAB me! I'm so tired of people always coming here to break their treaties and to kill me..."

"I just want to talk to you a minute." Melvin said.
